JANUARY 9, 2007 TUESDAY 12:15 P.M. VOL. 70 NO. 2

THIS TUESDAY

Temple Station Sheriffs Rich Soto and Rick Adams will give us Part II of their Theft Identity program. This is a hot topic right now.

LAST TUESDAY

Taylor Black gave us the inside scoop of riding on the Kiwanis Rose Float. She had to arrive 3 hours early in the cold to be hoisted up on the float at 8:00 a.m. Proud Grampa Elmer and Alan viewed the parade from Alan's office on Colorado Blvd.

Taylor and Key Clubbers enjoyed working on the float using the famous oasis glue and of course, Elmer's glue.

While reading the Pasadena Star News this morning story appeared about a man who fell from a two-story scaffold while decorating a float. The story goes on to say, "Float decorators set strict rules for people working on floats. They have to be at least 13 years old to work on a float and 16 before they are allowed to climb scaffolding to participate in float decoration. To ensure volunteers keep their minds on the job, they are not allowed to listen to music or use cell phones, and no food or drink is allowed near the floats."

"You put a soda can up there," said decorator Randy Sunberg last week, pointing at some scaffolding, "they knock it off - in 10 seconds you ruin something that's taken months of work."

Key Club members made a visit with Dorothy Yen, Lt. Governor; Jessica Tang, President; Jennifer Ma, Vice-President; Yvonne Luk, Secretary. Key Club Advisor, Winnie Joe also told of the Key Clubbers helping decorate the floats. Mrs. Joe is hoping to be Assistant Crew Chief of decorating next year. Kudos for Key Club for being chosen Club of the Month for November, and Jennifer Ma being President of the Month for December.

Bob and Syndey Tyler are happy to report that their daughter-in-law Shoko has returned home with more therapy expected from the stroke she sustained while delivering their grandchild. The new baby is doing fine.

INTERCLUBBING

The Pasadena Club hosted an Interclub luncheon in honor of our very own International President Nelson Tucker on Saturday, December 30th. Jim Enkelaar attended and made his usual thorough report. Two of our Key Clubbers were also in attendance.

Also on Saturday the Rose Float Club hosted a reception for the International President around 5:00 p.m. at the Rose Float Pavilion. A great Tri-Tip dinner was enjoyed by Chuck Shaw and family, Elmer Black and family, Mike Miller, and Bill Hohl.

CONDOLENCES

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Mike Miller at the passing of his mother Jeanette on January 1st. A private service for the family is planned.
