THIS TUESDAY

Our Key Club will present their impressions of the recent Convention in Sacramento.

LAST TUESDAY

The Opossum ladies visited us again and told of all the good things these furry little animals provide.

Ellen Mehan, "The Opossum Lady" and her animal handler Katrelya Angus have been studying Opossum's for over 25 years. Opossum's walked with the dinosaurs over 70 million years ago. They are related to the Kangaroo with pouches. They have 50 teeth and have a 10 day gestation period.

When they see a Kiwanian they get so excited that they actually faint, hence the saying "Playing Possum".

Ellen and Katrelya are members of The Opossum Society of the United States. The little creatures are called "Nature's Little Sanitation Engineers", opossums help maintain a clean and healthy environment by eating carrion and food discarded by man. What usually attracts them to a backyard is pet food left out after dark.

Opossums are very clean and constantly groom themselves. They are not aggressive and will not attack humans.

Mike Lepore was off to Hawaii again. Steve Montesanti was touting his new travel business, an on-line travel agency with golf, and flowers. Sounds like Mike Millers dream date. Steve's daughter is receiving her Masters Degree in Education from Point Loma Univ.

Tom McIntee has been cleared to go straight to Kiwanis education. Dan Snell will clear up all the ambiguities by Bob Tyler.

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

Cloverly Principal Mr. Doug Walters brought two outstanding students. Doug will be retiring soon and moving to Arizona.

Michelle Cai is 11 years old and in Ms. Tenney's class. Michelle enjoys drawing, playing the flute, and doing ballet. The best things about school are the great teachers, safe school, and you learn a lot. Goals are to go to college, get a good job, and live a long and happy life.

Nicole Van is 12 years old and in Mr. Lee's class. Nicole enjoys blogging, swimming, image-editing, listening to music, and baking. The best things about school are her friends, the kind teachers, and lovely surroundings. Personal goals are to get into a good college, meet the Jonas Brothers, and travel to Japan.

POSTAL FOOD DRIVE

Please be at the TC Post Office at noon this Saturday for the annual food drive. We will be packing, sorting, and transporting the goods that are received by the postal carriers. If you want to know what happened last year, contact Jim Enkelaar.
