THIS TUESDAY

Our own James (Jacobus) Enkelaar will be the program. You can blame me for this one. I gave Jim a copy of the Los Angeles Times obituary of 97 year old Johtje Vos, who sheltered and saved 36 Jews in wartime Holland.

LAST TUESDAY

It seems there was some confusion on my part. I thought Chamber President Herbert Chan was going to present to the WHOLE club ideas on increasing membership.

It was brought out at our initial meeting with Herbert that we needed to get our own house in order first. We had a lively discussion again on how we can get our story out to the community. Parents of Key Clubbers were discussed as with home based businesses. My take on the problem is to better market ourselves to the community we serve. We need to write human interest stories and let the community know just what we do to support the youth. We need to let them know how we raise money, where we spend money, our relationship to the City and School District. Past history of membership and accomplishments through 69 years of service.

We just installed our newest member, Tom McIntee. It has been exactly 1 year since we installed our last member. This member because of work responsibilities can not attend meetings. We are the last best hope for a Service Club in Temple City. Are you doing your part as a member to recruit new members? Do the members that we have now make it a priority to attend EVERY week?

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

Community Learning Center and Independent Study brought 5 great students of be honored. Accompanying them were CLC teacher, Yvonne Rivera and Dr. Doug Sears. Dr. Sears thanked the club for their ongoing support and funding the Safe Schools magnets.

Melanie Aragon is in the Independent Study Program and enjoys writing and music. The best things about school is her teacher, the school schedule, and fun school work. Goals are to complete school, get a job, and have a family.

Mia Mendez is in Mr. Jahan's Independent Study class and enjoys music, reading, baseball, and movies. The best things about school are math, studying at home, and her teacher. Goals are to graduate from High School, become a lawyer, and a Ph.D.

Lauren Haines is in Mrs. Rivera's class and enjoys snowboarding, writing, and art. The best things about school is knowing that one day her education will get her somewhere. She also enjoys the wonderful teachers and spending time with her friends. Goals are to become successful and go to college, become an X-Ray technician, and to have a happy and wonderful family one day.

Kristy Rodriguez is in Mr. Rios and Mrs. Billing's class and enjoys listening to music. The best things about CLC are her friends, the staff is awesome!, and the school environment. Goals are to build an amusement park, graduate from High School, join the National Guard this summer, and get her real estate license.

William Magana is in Mr. Rios and Mrs. Billing's class and enjoys basketball and football. The best things about CLC are earning his credits, having a safe school, and its easy to communicate with staff. Personal goals are to build a full basketball court with lights in his backyard, strive to be a good musician, get his drivers license, and to meet Kobe Bryant.
