Dr. Hanson Lee, a gastroenterologist from Arcadia Methodist Hospital will talk to us about prevention and early detection of colorectal cancer.

Colorectal cancer, also called colon cancer or bowel cancer, includes cancerous growths in the colon, rectum and appendix. It is the third most common form of cancer and the second leading cause of death among cancers in the Western world. Colorectal cancer causes 655,000 deaths worldwide per year. Many colorectal cancers are thought to arise from adenomatous polyps in the colon. These mushroom-like growths are usually benign, but some may develop into cancer over time. The majority of the time, the diagnosis of localized colon cancer is through colonoscopy. Therapy is usually through surgery, which in many cases is followed by chemotherapy.

My "pardon the pun" burning question was how come it took so long to demolish the burnt buildings if they were a daily reminder to the children of how someone could take away the safety they once felt. The natural answer was the insurance company.

Mr. Happy #1 can truly sing "Don't Worry, Be Happy". Mike would like to remind you if you have money to turn in or bills that you need to be reimbursed for, bring all you have this Tuesday.
