"THE CAMELLIA CLUB"
TEMPLE CITY CALIFORNIA
Chartered August 8, 1939

DECEMBER 1, 2015 TUESDAY 12:00 P.M. VOL. 77 NO. 9

THIS TUESDAY

Bobby Hundley from the San Gabriel Valley Music Theatre will tell us all the obstacles in producing musicals today.

LAST TUESDAY

Bryan Ariizumi is the Public Safety Supervisor for Temple City. He has been helping Temple City to stay safe for over ten years. Temple City is not wasting time getting ready for the predicted biggest El Niño event in history. Bryan gave tips on making sure your roof is in good shape and your gutters are clear of debris. Sand bags are being stockpiled by the City and the Fire Department. You are free to go there and fill your own bags.

We've been hearing for a while now that a big El Niño is brewing in the Pacific and likely to dump a very wet winter on Southern California, but now we're getting an idea of just how big it might be. Earlier in the month, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's climate team noted that the rise of the Pacific Ocean's temperatures along the equator (a major factor in El Niño prediction) were second only to the El Niño that hit in 1997-1998, one of the strongest El Niños since 1977. That could mean that this year's El Niño turns out to be the second-strongest in about 40 years, says the San Gabriel Valley Tribune.

The 1997-1998 event showed a temperature rise of almost 2 degrees Celsius in the Pacific; NOAA measures that this year's potential El Niño has warmed the oceans 1.7 degrees Celsius. The other huge El Niño SoCal's seen in the past few decades, the 1982-1983 event, caused $8 billion in damages and ripped the roof off the Los Angeles Convention Center. This year's El Niño looks to be stronger than that one. Comparisons between the massive 1997-1998 El Niño and the one potentially brewing for this year have been floating around since September.

"Yes, for that time of year (August-October 2015), it was the second strongest," the deputy director of NOAA's Climate Prediction Center in Maryland tells the SGVT. The most recent numbers indicate that there's a 95 percent chance that a "strong El Niño" will hit the Northern Hemisphere starting in December and going through March. The deputy director did note that his agency's El Niño forecast won't be ready until December 4, at which time new information will be available that might show otherwise.

Make sure you sign up for our Tuesday, December 15 Club Christmas Party at The Old Spaghetti Factory in Duarte. Three choices for dinner with arrival at 6 with dinner at 7.

Rich Wenzel has come up with the menu for the December 2 Ronald McDonald Meals of Love. The theme is beef with the main dish by Bob Rodenbucher and Sue Matchett, Salad by John Gera and Ron Dorazio, Bread by Rich Wenzel, Drinks by Matt Smith, and Dessert by Dan Snell and Steve Montesanti. Cloverly School Student Council will help with Meals of Love for March and May 2016.

Dan and June snell are in Texas for an extended stay with family for the Thanksgiving holiday.

TURKEYS

Rich Wenzel reports Thirty five turkeys were delivered to six Temple City schools. Emperor with 6, Longden with 6, Cloverly with 7, La Rosa with 6, and Doug Sears Learning Center with 4. Each school chose their needy families to have turkeys and food baskets for the holidays. All were delivered by Rich Wenzel and Bob Rodenbucher on November 19.

Turkeys were donated by Albertsons to California American Water District, and San Gabriel Valley Water District. All turkeys came out of offices of Assemblyman Ed Chau (15), Congresswoman Judy Chu (8), and State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez (12).
