

Kiwanis Honors Cloverly Students Carolina Chau and Paul Fang

Kiwanis Club of Temple City was pleased to have honored two students from Cloverly school at their meeting, October 14, 2003. Pictured with the proud students is Pat Wenzel of Cloverly School. Pat and Richard Wenzel both teach at Cloverly and have a combined teaching experience of over 50 years.

Carolina is 11 years old and is in Ms. Martemucci's 6th grade class. Carolina enjoys doing her homework, art, listening to music, and playing basketball. The best things about school are "school is a place that many kids can learn things, Cloverly school has good teachers, and school is like my home". Three personal goals Carolina said she is striving for are "to be a teacher, to be a good student, and to be a good girl for all my life".

Paul is 11 years old and is in Mr. Lee's 6th grade class. Paul's hobbies and interest are chess, drawing, sports, hiking, piano, violin, and computer games. The three best things about school are "the extraordinary teachers!, the school is clean as a whistle, the challenging homework and projects". If Paul could build one thing in this world, it would be time machine that travels by projecting an infinity vortex. Three personal goals Paul is striving for are "to be a virtuoso pianist, to go to Stanford or Harvard, or to be a scientist when I grow up".
